A Gruesome Find

Body of 'Tom' Gregory Taken From The Waters of The Old Man River at Frank.

While a couple of men were at work near the river, about one hundred yards west of the Turtle Mountain mine entrance, on Thursday morning, their attention became drawn to an object lying in the water a short distance away. On investigation it was discovered to be the body of a man. The provincial police were immediately notified and the body was removed from the water. The head, arms and legs were rather firmly imbedded in the mud, showing that the body had been there for some considerable time. On searching the man's pockets for means of identity, nothing but a pipe and pocketknife were found.

Considerable mystery surrounds the fate of this man. So far as known, no man has been reported missing in these parts. From the appearance of the man's head and body, the doctors are of opinion that the man came to his death by drowning about six or seven weeks ago. Some expressed the theory that the man tumbled into the river somewhere west of Coleman when the waters were at their highest in the month of June, but such a theory could hardly be possible, for the body could not pass through the log-jam west of Blairmore at or since that time. It is probable that the man tumbled into the river near the McLaren Mill, and that after several days was swept down towards the still waters at Frank, for the head and clothes showed signs of having travelled some distance through rocks and other entanglements. Several days ago two little children of Frank parents noticed the object in the water just about where it was discovered yesterday, and their parents treated their story as a mere joke, and never gave the matter a second thought until the report of the gruesome finding reached them yesterday.

A Blairmore man named Lewis reported having seen an object drifting down the river through Blairmore a number of days ago, which in appearance resembled that of the object found near Frank.

The body was removed to the parlors of Undertaker Davies at Coleman, where it was embalmed, and interment took place at the Blairmore cemetery today.

Coroner Pinkney was summoned, but an inquest was not considered necessary.

Since the man's burial, his identity has been arrived at. From a time-sheet found in an inside pocket it was found that the dead body was that of Thomas Gregory, who came to this part of the Pass early in the month of June and secured employment with the McLaren Lumber Co. as cook. Shortly afterwards he quit the job and went to work with the French Canadian Collieries at Frank. The time sheet carried in his pocket was dated June 20th.

Gregory leaves a brother, residing at Rossland, and a sister, Miss Mary Gregory, residing in Blairmore. He was forty-two years of age and unmarried.

Pte. E. R. Huguet Dies of Wounds

Word was received on Sunday morning last from Ottawa, stating that Private Ernest R. Huguet, of Blairmore, had died of wounds received in a recent engagement. Pte. Huguet enlisted early in the war, being one of the early volunteers from The Pass. He was wounded in action late last year, and after serving several months in hospitals in France and England, was allowed to return to duty, shortly after which he was again wounded, resulting in his death. Several months ago he was awarded a 'V.C.' for valour on the battlefield.

He was about twenty-one years of age, and prior to enlisting, lived with his parents on Stuart Street, Blairmore. He was a member of the Blairmore Cadets.

Pte. Huguet had been through some of the most terrific engagements on the western front, including that of S. Belgium and Courtrai, and had in there and many other fights escaped without a scratch.

General sympathy is expressed with his parents and sisters, who are residing in Blairmore, in their sudden bereavement.

Word was received through Ottawa on Wednesday morning stating that Sapper Matt Odger, a well-known Coleman man, had died of wounds. Matt Odger enlisted with the 192-d Battalion as a private early last year, and was advanced to the rank of corporal before going overseas. In England, in order to get to the front, he surrendered his stripes and joined as a sapper. He came to Coleman from Scotland several years ago, and was employed at one of the mines there. A brother was also killed at the front some time ago.

Private John Williams, Of Coleman, Wounded

The name of John Williams was contained in Tuesday's list of wounded. Private Williams was one of the most popular lads of Coleman, being an all-round sport and prominent in Hockey and baseball circles. Private Williams is suffering from wounds in the head, which are not thought serious. He enlisted at Saaroe last year.

Running a Newspaper is a Snap

It is just as easy for a two-year-old boy to edit a newspaper as it is for a pompous, bewhiskered man of forty-five. It doesn't require any special talent from knowing how to spell. Turn button and then set the darn stuff upside down and you have a newspaper. No subscriptions for laundry. One's thinking about running a newspaper is that in event the genius who undertakes the job can't do it. "First shot off the bat," there are generally enough who think they can to advise him how it should be done. Here is the way an old neighbor of ours, writing of the trials of the editor, sizes up the situation:

"Dear folks: Now I know why editors go mad. I have been trying to run this here paper while the editor is on his vacation. For three days and nites I been reading questions and trying to answer them, and if I don't quit I'll be going around talking to myself! I'm going to tell you what I did. I went to the ball game.—Jimmy, the editor, said:

"I—What is a lumberjack?—R. Randall Ans.—A lumberjack in the country is a strange disease among frogs and chickens. In the city it is a disease of human person caused by watching the editor and other chickens."

—Do small cows give condensed milk?—Maggie P.

Ans.—No, Maggie. Condensed milk is made by trying to get a quart of milk into a quart milk bottle.

—Is it right to feed hogs corn in the ear?—T. Appleby.

Ans.—No. Put them in a trough and let them help themselves.

—I am in love with a homely blonde girl who works for her living, but she does not care for me while a pretty girl down town has eyes for me. What shall I do?—O. J. Sparrow.

Ans.—Marry the one you love, and waste no time in letting me have the name and address of the other one.

—My hair is beginning to fall out. What shall I get to keep it in?—H. J. Benson.

Ans.—A sash.

—Please tell me how to raise a nice fat hog of five hundred pounds?—B. S. Sano.

Ans.—Get a derrick.

—I am forty-five years old, have a nice little house in Landmark and am thinking seriously of taking a wife. What would you advise?—Old Uncle.

Ans.—I would advise you to be careful whose wife you take.

—Our old red bull is chasing me around a forty-acre field. What shall I do?—Lank.

Ans.—I don't know; but don't give up, old chap; the editor will be back in a week.

Keep Huns Busy
Paying Indemnities

Writing in the Federation, Mr. A. P. Atkinson, secretary of the Central Federation of Trades Unionists in Great Britain, in reference to the cry of "no indemnities and no reparations," says:

"It is impossible to state or even estimate the value, in terms of money, of the millions of lives sacrificed to the ambition of Germany's military caste, or of the mental or moral agony of the people whom territories she has occupied, or the material resources she has destroyed, or of the deferred and untimely reparation of her right for world domination. But it is certain that she has impoverished the world and filled humanity's cup of sorrow to overflowing; it is obviously impossible to extract from a Germany beaten even to her knees such indemnities as will restore to those she has outraged the material resources and artistic treasures they enjoyed prior to August, 1914; but it should be neither impossible nor unjust to exact such terms as will keep her so occupied in making restitution reparation that she will have no time during the present century to dream of or prepare for another military adventure. The world is not much to itself. To absolve the aggressor from all material penalties is to invite future and better prepared attacks."

NOTICE

Such permits will be granted without charge by Forest Ranger J. H. Boulton, at Coleman, or may be secured from Provincial Police. (Signed) R. M. BROWN, Forest Supervisor.

Present Fuel Situation

Coal Should Be Secured Now to Last All Next Winter

The following indicates that there will be a greater coal shortage next winter than last, and therefore we should arrange for our fuel supply accordingly:

"Great Britain is short 15,000 tons of coal, which feeds even more the coaling of ships sailing on the Atlantic coast, the naval, domestic and industrial requirements incident to the entrance of United States as a belligerent, all mean that the coal production must be increased.

2. United States officials anticipate that next fall there will be unprecedented demands on rolling stock as well as greater difficulty in handling the production.

3. The situation is that the United States companies have placed an embargo on coal going out of that country, and the United States desire to keep coal in that country for any emergency that may arise.

4. We present rather acute shortage of coal in many quarters will be helped by war conditions in the United States.

5. Coal prices have generally increased, and, unless there is Government regulation, they will reach higher levels.

6. The U. S. Geological Survey, as well as other agencies having knowledge of the facts, is urging all consumers of coal, both large and small, to store their winter's fuel during the summer months. In so far as central and western Canada is concerned, the situation is intensified by the fact that owing to the coal strike in the west some 200,000 tons have already been lost from production this year; also, owing to the shortage of ships and the great demand for iron ore for the manufacture of munitions, much less coal than originally was brought up the Great Lakes last year, so that there are practically no supplies on hand.

From the above it is evident that, to be assured of a winter's supply of coal, and, at the same time, save inconvenience and perhaps higher prices, we should buy coal during the summer months whenever and whenever it is available.

The Dominion Government has appointed a Fuel Controller to take charge of the situation, and the coal dealer and householder can assist by filling their bins now with sufficient coal to last through the whole winter. By doing this will help out conditions when the railway congestion occurs next fall.—J. D. J.

"The Isle of Smiles"

One of the finest treats in music offered to the public is in the course of a few days to be the engagement of the musical comedy show which according to the press of the large cities, is creating a furor wherever it is showing. The Montreal Journal says "The Isle of Smiles" is one of the best musical shows that has appeared here in many a day. It is full of hearty laughter, makes you laugh in spite of yourself, the chorus along with the magnificent wardrobe, it displayed is well worth the price of admission. It is a show that will make you forget the worries and cares of the day."

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. D. Reid

Several members of the local Lodge of the L.G.O.F. journeyed to Coleman on Monday evening, accompanied by the D.D.G.M., Bro. Allan Hamilton, who was to install the officers of Coleman Lodge on that evening, but owing to the proposed early departure of Bro. David Reid and Mrs. Reid for Lethbridge, the meeting took another form, when presentations were made to Mr. and Mrs. Reid on behalf of Coleman Lodge No. 36, and the Rebekah Lodge, and thereby band. Presentation on behalf of the band was made by Mr. Beddington, the conductor, and there was a beautiful expression of warm appreciation of the interest shown manifested by Mr. Reid in the band.

Sister Derbyshire, on behalf of Coleman Rebekah Lodge, addressed the assembly in well-chosen words, testifying to the worth of their departing members and citizens. Mrs. Reid was made recipient of a beautiful Past Grand Rebekah collar.

The presentation on behalf of the Oddfellows to Bro. D. Reid was made by Bro. Allan Hamilton, past grand of Blaирmore Lodge No. 68, and district deputy grand master of the jurisdiction, who in his customary pleasing manner, prompted somewhat in an appetite for the good things to follow, delivered the following address:

Dear Brother Reid,

I have been asked by your friends and brothers of Coleman Lodge No. 36, to endeavor to convey to you, in some measure at least, a realization of the esteem in which you are held by your many friends and brother Oddfellows in Coleman and throughout The Pass, and it is a pleasure to accede to this request because my own sentiments in the matter are entirely in accordance with theirs. You must realize that Oddfellowship means something more than form and ritual to these men whose friendship you have earned and held, and who tonight are trying to give tangible evidence of their friendship and fellowship. This is done, however, tonight not so well as terminate tonight, it is rather the evidence that you have been weighed in the balance and found worthy, and wherever you may go, whatever may be your lot in life, you may rest assured that in Coleman you have friends and brothers. In times like these when the intelligence of the world is dominated by the fruits of enmity and distrust, it is surely significant that in quiet little corners of the earth there still exists the principles on which our beloved Order is founded, Friendship, Love and Truth, and this incident tonight revives in us the hope that some day these will be the dominating influences throughout the whole world and that "in the world there will be trials" for "as it is, so shall it be."

It is a matter of pride to us that you have fit to leave, but our acquaintance with you has taught us something of the value of a good and true man, and we wish you success in your new field of labor. And now Brother Reid, I ask you in the name of Coleman Lodge to accept this collar and jewel, it carries with it the sentiments of Friendship, Love and Truth; this Friendship we hope you will ever reciprocate, this Love we hope you will ever cherish, this Truth we hope you will ever appreciate, and we are sure that Truth is one of your virtues.

Brother Reid spoke a few well chosen words, expressed much of the general wonder and expressed deep regret that it was necessary for him to leave Coleman but he assured the brothers that he would never forget the lodge there and hoped to visit them occasionally in the future.

When the presentations were over refreshments were served to all present after which the band gave several selections and then dancing commenced and continued until the "wee small hours of the mornin'" and everybody enjoyed the affair immensely.

A young clergyman having agreed to supply the pulpit of an older brother, absent from home, escorted to the church the daughter of the pastor, and after seeing her safely in her father's pew, ascended to the pulpit, unconscious that his natural attention to the young lady was sufficient to excite lively imaginations and inquiries in the audience. Upon reading the hymn to be sung, the young clergyman was surprised to see evident efforts in the congregation to suppress laughter. The daughter of his friend possessed the mellifluous name of Grace, and, all unconscious of the fact, he had chosen the hymn beginning with the words "Amazing grace" and proceeded with:

"Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved;
How precious did that grace appear
The hour I first believed!"

The Pollock Wine Co. received one the other day which had been tapped from the bottom, the thief boring right through into a barrel of whiskey, from which he extracted 13 gallons. He then considerably plugged the hole and thus saved the balance of the barrel from loss. — Fernie Free Press.
